What is Playtos Miniversity?

Playtos Miniversity is the world's first beyond school for children at the age of 10-14, bridging the gap between traditional knowledge-based formal schooling and competency-based learning revolving around three fundamental and far-reaching pillars; life, leadership and entrepreneurship. It offers one of a kind two-year comprehensive curriculum that aims at cultivating the greatest leaders of tomorrow. It is holistic and science based in its approach, experiential and innovative in its pedagogy, and transformational in its impact, focusing on the two core abilities of making sense of the world and adapting to and leading the changes that are happening in it. Playtos Miniversity nurtures and empowers tomorrow's thinkers, doers and changemakers today.

The Philosophy

Plato, the 4th century Greek philosopher, who was instrumental in penning down his master Socrates's Philosophy along with Xenophon, in the form of dialogues, gave rise to a literature genre that is subsequently referred to as Socratic Dialogues. It is these concepts and understanding that have pertinently triggered, offered and informed the base Philosophy of Playtos's Miniversity. Based on the Central method of Socratic Dialogues, learning through stimulating discussions, stories and games becomes more interactive and pattern-agnostic. This is better achieved while additionally flipping the classroom, allowing the children to enjoy the process with the community and take in information at their own time and pace as it gets synthesized into knowledge and wisdom.

PLAYTOSTIMONIALS

Something interesting about Playtos is the kind of topics that students learn. They are very relevant to the real world which traditional schools are not able to give such exposure, this is something very phenomenal at Playtos.

-Tanvi Rangwala, CEO Venture Studio

Our mentors are like our friends, we have interactive classes where you don't have to ask to speak, it's an open non-judgmental space where you have like-minded people.

-Tarana, Playtonite, Alpha Wolves

Playtos miniversity is for the transformation of your child. I am glad that what I am learning as an entrepreneur at the age of 40 my kid, Yatharth is learning it at the age of 12. He is in the process of self-discovery and we are very much looking forward to him growing.

-Snehal and Paulomi, Memory Graphics

At Playtos we always learn something that we are going to apply in real life anyway, like the session on change. A few weeks after that I faced something that was a drastic change to me, and I was like "What would I do if it was a Playtos lesson?", and I applied all of that and it helped so much.

-Nadia, Playtonite, Rising Eagles
